renched the District jail yesterday he expressed his disapprobation as to the manner in which that institution is being conducted by Warden Harris. His first announcement after entering the building was that he is done with newspaper men and be asked that none of them be permitted that his midday meal be kept for him. Yesterday was a "feast day" at the District jail, the prisoners having been served with an "extra good dinner."

Punk, however, refused to partake of hall attendants with a sentimental song-He had not completed the chorus of "Break the News Gently" when he was interrupted by one of the guards who in-formed him that such conduct was against the rules of the prison. He then started to whistle an operatic sir, but this, too, was interrupted by the jail authorities. When stopped the second time Funk be-came very ugly, and expressed his opinion of the jail in terms not at all complimen-tary, and said he would see whether or not he could exercise his voice in pilson if he wanted to.

A SCENE IN POLICE COURT.

Attorney Carl J. C. Graff Fined for Contempt by Judge Taylor.

The duil routine of the Police Court was enlivened this morning by a scene, in which the principals were Attorney Carl

J. F. Graff and Acting Prosecuting Attorney A. Leftwich Sinclair. Attorney Graff was fined $5 for contempt of court for having used improper language. Graff was retained as coursed by Thomas Carr, the defendant in the case, who was charged with disorderly conduct and the use of profane and indecent language. Officer J. T. Newkirk arrested him on Pennsylvania Avenue, between Third and Four-and-s-half streets which the principals were Attorney Carl to the Superintendent of Police. He was arrested Monday and upon the deposit of collateral the case was continued until this between Third and Four-and-a-half streets portlywest at about 8 o'clock. He was using profanity when placed under arrest, and governing the matter, reads as follows: continued his indecent language all the way

Officers Newkirk, S. D. Gibson, and Albert W. Steventon, of the Sixth precinct, were in court and testified to the facts in the case. Carr denounced them as liars, and intimated that they had perjured them-

Acting Prosecuting Attorney Sinclair exacting troscuting Attorney Statement of amined the defendant and in the course of the examination brought out the admission from Carr that he had been drinking this morning. Attorney Graff then took the floor to address the court. He prefaced his remarks by staring to the court that he had never appeared in Police Court as counsel and received a fee for his serv-ices. This was regarded as a decided slur nos. Into was regarded as a decaded sur-upon the court. Graff infinated that his appearance in court this morning was for the purpose of defending a friend and he-desired to see justice done. He attempted, on the strength of his client's testimony. of the straight to discredit that of the three officers who stated positively that the defendant had been disorderly and used profane and in-ecent language. Graff stated that his only object in defending Carr was to protect the prisoner's fair name from the calumnies heaped upon if he were convicted, was nothing. He class the admission of the defendant to the effect that he had been drinking this morning. He cited several incidents where illustrious men had been necustomed to take their morning hover. accustomed to take their morning bevernaming Calhoun, Webster, George Washington, and others.

Mr. Sinclair at this juncture arose to answer Graff, whereupon the attorney for the defendant exclaimed "Sit down, you Mr. Sinclair replied by saying: "It is evident that you have had your morning

That's none of your -- tusiness," replied Graff. Mr. Sinciair immediately rose to his feet and addressed the court. He said: "It is evident that the attorney for the defendent is not accustomed to practice in Police Court. He ought to be made to know that such actions are not to be tolerated in this court. He ought to be fined for contempt."

Judge Taylor thereupon imposed a fine of $5, which was paid. He also fined the defendant in the case $5 for the offence with which he was charged. Graff apologized to the judge, but ignored Mr. Sinclair. Shortly afterwards Mr. Sinclair moved open court that a warrant be issued for Graff compelling him to appear in court to-morrow morning and apologize to the court and to the prosecuting attorney. Judge Taylor issued the order.

Native Stock-Raisers Building Up a Profitable Trade.

John F. Winter, United States Consul at Annaberg, Germany, in a report issued by the State Department today, makes usc of the following extract, regarding the Importation of American horses into the German Empire, taken from the "Hamburger Nachrichten:"

Importations from America have caused the horse-raisers of Holstein to suffer much of late. A stock cotagany has just been formed in Berlin for the express purpose of importing loaness from the United States. The Americans have succeeded in breeding a horse which compares very favorably in every way with the Holstein animal, especially in those points so highly prized in a work horse, namely, bread hips and large build generally. The best markets for Holstein horses has always been the Previnces of Saxuny, Thuringta, and Brunewick. The demand is created by the large sugar factories. This market has been decreasing of late, owing to American horses being purchased in Berlin. A few days ago this Berlin company, shipped drove of eighty through Hamburg en route for Milan, Italy, where being parrawed in feetin. A few days ago this Berlin company shipped a drove of eighty through Hambarg en roure for Milan, Italy, where they are to be used in the transways. Almost energy work a long freight train filled with Amer-ican buses leaves the Berliner Bahnhof for va-rious parts of Germany. In spite of expensive freight and a tariff of 85 per head, the Ameri-cans have built up a very respectable competi-tion in the German market.

A BURGLAR SHOT AND KILLED. man and a Marauder.

Englewood, N. J., Aug. 23.-Wolfred Peterson, employed by Misses Greighton & girls, was awakened at 4 o'clock this morning by hearing his bedroom door open. He sprang out and confronted a burglar. immediately grabbed him by the throat and attempted to overcome him. Peter-son made a desperate resistance and both men struggled to get the better of each Peterson, after a fight lasting twenty minutes, succeeded in getting himself free, jumped to a table where his revolver lay, and shot the burglar twice in the abd The burglar immediately sank to the floor and said: You have done me." He re-fused to give any information as to his identity, but uttered a series of oaths against Peterson. The police were notified, but the man died.

Upon investigating the premises it was discovered that the burglar gained an en-trance with the use of a jimmy on the porch through a parlor window. He had secured a small amount of silverware and $75 was found in his pockets.

Forming a Big Coal Combine

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 23.-Former Senator Johnson N. Camden, of West Virginia, who passed through Cumberland Monday night, is said to be in the gigantic coal combination which the Elkins-Davis-Kerens interests are known to be forming. He has been making extensive purchases of coal lands in Middle West Virginia, paying in some instances large prices, a tract in Harrison county last week having been procured for $50,000, which a short time before was offered for $50,000. He is said to control the middle district fields. It is said by persons in posi-tion to know that there has positively been no friction between the Kerens and the Davis-Elkins interests.

WORKING FOR LOW RATES

Efforts of the Transportation Committee of the Dewey Reception.

Reasons Given Why the Railroads Should Make an Excursion Fare for the Occasion-Big Crowds Expected From the South-Santiago Veterana Ready to Parade.

Chairman Edward J. Stellwagen, of the ommittee on transportation for the Dewey reception, prepared a number of letters today which will be sent to the A POSTMASTERS' SCHEME passenger agents of all the railroads that will bring visitors to Washington during the Admiral's welcome. The letters strongly urged that the roads grant a onefare rate to Washington and return and asked that a liberal extension be made on

"We are very hopeful of getting the one-fare rate," said Mr. Stellwagen to a Times reporter this morning, "and the general committee will join me in urging the roads to grant the favor, as we expect large crowds from all parts of the South Our principal argument in favor of the one-fare rate is that there will probably not be another sword presentation at the Capital in years, so the railroads will not be unable to come to Washing, for if we only get a one and one-third fare it will make a difference of $5 or $6 on a ticket from many places, and if a man wants to bring his family the $15 or $20 additional railroad fare will be a big item. Then, too, we want an extension of, say, ten days on the tieketa in order that the visimay inspect all the principal build-in the city and make side trips to at Vernon, Baltimore, and other Mount Vernon, Baltimore, and other places and feel that they are doubly replaces and feel that they are doubly fe-paid for coming.

"The one-fare rate will increase the crowd many thousands, and as there is only one Dewey we believe the railroads should make an exception in this case and give the lowest possible rate."

The statement in The Times that parti-cipants in the payed battles of Santiago the colonel gave them a warm welcome and prophesied that when Dewey stepped out on the east front of the Capitol he would gaze upon a crowd that would be one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever gathered in Washington.

Chairman E. G. Schafer, of the com-mittee on printing, will hold a meeting of his committee at the Ames building at 4 o'clock this afternoon. A large attend-ance is promised and business of import-ance will be transacted. Acceptances of appointments on committees continue to be received by Secretery Van Wickle and today $50 was added to the general fund. Dr. Frank Hyatt and James H. McKenney, Chief Clerk of the Court of Appeals, wrote that they would gladly serve on the reception committee, and each enclosed a check for $20. A. R. Serven, of the Civil Service Commission, accepted his appointment on the committee on public comfort and order and sent a check for $10.

Crum is postmaster at Peck. He was appointed by the present Administration, but having a large orange grove and truck farm, as well as the editorship of a newspaper, the organ of the Republicans of Florida, to occupy his attention, he recently appointed Dan H. Morrison, a ne-gro, to act as deputy postmaster. This appointment did not please the white residents of Peck, and two weeks ago, at midnight, a delegation of them waited upon Morrison and gave him twenty-four hours to resign. Morrison reported to Crum who acceptand resignation and notified the public, through the columns of his paper that he would recommend to the department at Washington that the office be abolished. adding several rather caustic comments on the action of the citizens latimidating the to the court that he was yet unprepared negro and intimating that they were unit to handle the charge of embezzlement, the for the enjoyment of the benefits of civilization. The matter was supposed to be at rest until last night when another delegarest until last night when another delega-tion visited Crom-at his home, called him out and handled him so roughly that he was obliged to come to this city this morn-ing for the attention of a physician. The masked men notified Crum that they were tired of his society and the quicker he moved away the better. They Propose an Organization to Secure Legislation.

Circular Urging Those of the Fourth Class to Contribute Funds for a National League-Various Grievances Said to Exist-Department Rules May Interfere,

The Postoffice Department has learned of a gigantic plan at present being devised by many of the fourth-class postmasters of the country to secure from Congress at the next session legislation in their favor. William H. Thomas, who was formerly a fourth-class postmaster at La Grange, Iowa, was removed some time ago because in violation of postal regulations he sent a letter to fourth-class postmasters soliciting funds with which to carry on a campaign to secure favorable legis lation. Recently Thomas has taken ho'd of the matter much more seriously and the "National League of Fourth-class Postmasters" has been formed. A circular with headlines as follows has been sent out:

"Do you want better compensation? Will you help to get it? If you do your part we shall win just as certain as Dewey captured Manila. The expense to you will be so small you will hardly miss it." Subscriptions of from 10 cents to $2 are solicited. The postmasters supposed to be identified with the movement, which is said to comprise about 70,000 officials, claim to have received. to have various grievances. They ask, in the first place, a minimum salary limit of $100 a year. In addition to this they ask for an appropriation enabling them to hire clerks. They urge also that provision be made for the payment of fuel, light, and stationery bills.

The organization of postmasters is regulated by very strict rules of the Postoffice Department and a postmaster is liable to immediate removal if he is found to be using efforts to influence legislation in Congress. The department cannot, however, forbid the postmasters to organize in much the same way that the letter-carriers of the country have organized.

STRANGE CAUSE FOR SUICIDE. tchlzeger Kills Himself When Pre-

vented From Committing Murder. Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 23.-Because he could not shoot a man with whom he was quarreling last evening John Achlzeger, thirty-seven years old, walked to the gate of his own home and shot himself through the head. He died a few minutes later. He was in a saloon late yesterday after-noon, when he had a quarrel with an acquaintance, whose name no one interested would divulge. Achieger pulled a re-volver and tried to shoot his tormentor. The bartender prevented him from discharging the weapon and put him out.

Achizeger declared that since he had been insuited and could not get even with the man who had insuited him he would kill himself. Achizeger walked down Sycamore Street to his home, and halting at the gate, drew a .32-calibre revolver, and placing it just above the right ear

TO SELL A CEMETERY FOR DEBT. An Ancient Graveyard Unable to Pay

New York, Aug. 23.-The old-establish-Plainfield, N. J., is to be sold for taxes. It has done very little business lately, and cannot pay its fixed charges. Collector George F. Brown, who is trying to collect $210 it owes the city, thinks that under progressive management it can be put on a profitable basis.

Senator Charles Reed, the borough counsel, to whom the case was referred, has decided the cemetery must be sold, like any other property. The cemetery trustees assert they have no income and don't know what to do. The situation is a very unpleasant one to the collector, who has many friends bur-led in the grounds. As the trustees are unable to do anything, or are apathetic, the collector thinks of getting subscriptions from the lotholders to save the ceme-tery. If it is sold, the purchaser, of course, would have the right to remove the bodies.

STOCKS MAINLY ACTIVE

Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Sugar Refining Both Exceptions.

Anthracite Coal Stocks More Than Usually Firm-All the Pacific Bonds in Good Request-Granger Shares Stendy, But Not Showing Much Animation-Consol Prices Advancing.

New York, Aug. 23 .- With the notewor thy exceptions of Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Suger Refining, the stock market opened with common advances, which in some instances extended to one point and over. Trading was active and well diversified, although the railway list and particularly the stocks classed as "specialties," were far more active than the industrials.

Among the specialties there were pro nounced advances in Norfolk and Western Denver and Rio Grande, Hocking Valley, and Iowa Central. The anthracite coal stocks were unusually firm, particularly Reading and Erie issues. All the Pacific stocks were also in good request, notably the Northern and Union Pacific stocks. The granger group was steady, but only mod-erately active. The weakness of Brooklyn Rapid Transit was natural owing to the disappointment felt in regard to the company's annual report, which was published yesterday, but in the early dealings the stock by no means reflected the pressure that was evident yesterday. The comparative heaviness of Sugar Refining had no other definite explanation apart from the misgivings as to the dividend, which are usually entertained prior to its declaration. The London market was reported generally strong, consols advancing and material gains being shown in the American quar-ter. Foreign houses had orders on both sides of the local market.

The stock market this morning was stronger and more active than yesterday and the outlook for advancing prices better. Traders seemed to have come to the conclusion that if such a break as occurred in Brooklyn Rapid Transit yesterday could not materially hurt the general mar-ket, it would be the safer plan to be on the long side. The trading element was therefore largely a buyer. Commission buying was good also espacially in the standard issues. Prices opened at about the level of the close last night and aded Cemetery on Chatham Street, North Plainfield, N. J., is to be sold for taxes. It has done very little business lately, and of the market, but there will be more buying than solling by correful special course of ing than seiling by careful speculators and it seems to be the general opinion prices will advance before the end of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit seemed incline during the early part of the day to advance, and, although there were occasional eclines, the price at 11 o'clock was bet ter than at the opening. It is out of the question to foretell what the bear clique with this stock in the imr future, but it seems reasonable, in view future, but it seems reasonable, in view of the good statement of the company, to predict that the price will not go much lower, and will tend upward in the near future. President Rossiter says in the statement that all the lines no system are earning gross about $12,000,000, and he predicts that they will be operated and he predicts that they will be operated for 55 per cent during the coming year, which would leave for the stock, after the fixed charges have been deducted, more than 41-2 per cent. This is not in any way a too confident prediction, he says, and it would seem probable that he is within true figures. If insiders are looking on at the raid of the stock at this time complacently, one explanation may perhaps be found in the fact that the assessments under the franchise bill are now ents under the franchise bill are n soon to be made, and that they are to be based on the market value of the stock. Brooklyn is selling at par its taxes will be much less than if it were se

Tobacco made another spurt this morning up to 125 in the first hour, after several days of inactivity around 122 and 123. The probability that another big advance is to be made was discussed in the Street.

The grangers, headed by Atchison, preferred, were again features of the early market, with fractional gains and much steadiness even in the weak periods.

Tennessee Coal and Iron was strong the company yesterday, which was considered not particularly attractive by many. Colorado Fuel and Iron was also strong. It is said by people familiar with this latter stock that it is to have an advance much like that of Tennessee Coal and Iron has been, and its action recently seems to lend color to this supposition.

Missouri, Kansas and Texas is one of the strong features of this market. Careful traders and investors believe that it will make an excellent showing in the near future.

Officials of the Steel aand Wire Company deny in very positive terms that their stocks have been refused listing by the Stock Exchange committee. It is stated that at the meeting of the commit-tee information was desired that could not be furnished by the representative of the company who attended. It is said, however, that this information will be furnished and that no trouble is expected when the application is acted on
